Foreword

WISDOM FOR MOST PEOPLE calls to mind an ancient sage expounding to a small group of devoted disciples. But Wisdom has many facets besides this one. Through college experience a student can become a wise man or woman in all phases of life: educational, cultural, religious, or social. The real purpose of a college career is this acquisition of a mature and wise approach to the problems and successes which will be met after graduation.

Dedication

The chemistry of his personality, tested in the crucible of experience, has produced an approach to life with enough viscosity to resist the surface tensions produced by the hectic flow of modern social currents.

Organically, he has blended a trained intellect, an orderly and logical system of thought, and an understanding and appreciation of youth in molding his earthy approach to the diverse challenges of life's daily routine.

His catalytic agent is an impish sense of humor.

The teaching success he has enjoyed during his years as Professor of Chemistry on the Elizabethtown College campus is best exemplified by the quality of the students he has trained in the classroom and laboratory.

The staff of the 1960 Conestogan hereby dedicates this publication to Dr. Oscar F. Stambaugh: respected teacher, trusted counselor, Christian gentleman.

Where We Live

Student-Alumni Gymnasium

ONE OF THE MOST impressive things about Elizabethtown College is its beautiful 65 acre campus. Dotting this campus which takes on a new face every season are the various buildings.

Alpha Hall, the administrative center of the campus, serves a wide variety of needs. The second and third floors provided living facilities for 40 women this year. Bongo drums, an epidemic of broken windows, and the death of a stowaway hamster, Howie, provided excitement for the residents.

A men's day student lounge, class and practice rooms, faculty offices, college store, and women's dormitory: all these are contained in Memorial Hall. The fourteen girls living in the third floor crow's nest had quite a time the day they trapped some janitors in a room. Luckily the janitors have a good sense of humor.

Last summer Fairview Hall had a face-lifting inside with new furniture and freshly-painted walls, in preparation for 54 coeds. The Fairview girls didn't let their studies interfere with their college education. Surprisingly enough, they did get some studying done despite the lights frequently going out and the noise of the wrestlers in their new basement room.

The remainder of the 132 women resident students lived in the New Women's Residence. This winter the girls were bothered by unwanted visitors: mice. These mice made quite a racket running in the registers.

The men's dormitories were centers of much activity: intellectual and otherwise. The men from the barracks, which houses North, South, and Center Halls, may not have lived like kings, but they certainly enjoyed themselves. Center Hall boasted of having its own radio station, while North Hall was mighty proud of its undefeated, untied, and unscored-upon intramural football team.

On the northwestern corner of the campus is West Hall, a residence for 20 men this year. Unfortunately for these men, around Halloween someone perfumed their clothes. Who would do a thing like that?

One of the two new men's residence this year was Cedar Hall. The ten men who lived there had a very unusual pet, a female cat, Mike. The other off-campus men's residence, the Fraternity, alias Club 16, was a hub of happenings. The I6 men, boasting five first-string soccer players, four baseball players, and one wrestler, enjoyed shaving cream battles and were irritated by bathroom singers at 2:00 A.M.

In the library it became everyday occurrence to see freshmen heads peering over stacks of books. While in the freshmen chemistry lab, they slaughtered the science.

In the Gymnasium one may easily find an athlete and an actress battling for the stage. At the same time in the Business building one may hear "Guten Tag" or "Bon Matin" with the same accent. All these with an undertone of typewriter keys.

Thus at E-town one will find a building for everyone's needs, whether one desires to catch mice, disect mice or act like them.

Our Guiding Hands

"HERE IS THE BEST of wisdom.

Wisdom is not finally tested in the schools,

Wisdom cannot be passed from one having it to another not having it,

Wisdom is of the soul, is not susceptible of proof, is its own proof,

Applies to all stages and objects and qualities and is content,

Is the certainty of the reality and immortality of things, and the excellence of things,

Something there is in the flood of the sight of things that provoke it out of the soul."—Walt Whitman

Talent! These were the words that struck a familiar note when they mentioned the Freshmen class of 1956. "A versatile group of individuals" from that first Sunday in September until the 30th of May of 1960, we have grown in wisdom, understanding and knowledge which will enable us to take our place in the world.

In September of that 1956 a group of students came together on Elizabeth-town's campus. Little did we know the friendships that would grow and the courtesies which would come from these "the fellow-members of our class." This group represented many parts of the state of Pennsylvania and other states. How many of these knew what was to happen within the next four years? We grouped ourselves together that first night after our parents had gone, right then being afraid of upper classmen remote and the strange bed being upmost in our minds.

Then it hit, like a wave of the plague. The Sophomore rules committee and the lowly frosh with their waste cans piled high with books which were spilled at the sound of a whistle that ALL the upper classmen carried. After a mysterious ceremony, initiation was over, but we had to wear our dinks because of our defeat at Lake Placida on Homecoming until Thanksgiving.

It wasn't long before the second semester rolled around. The girls moved into the new women's residence and the class pulled together in the spring elections to place Barry Stevenson on the Student Senate. As class officers we elected Fred Zimmerman, Barry, Barb Zimmerman and Bill Adams. At a later class meeting the class chose the same officers who led us as sophomores.

The variety show, choir, orchestra, sports and many other activities held our attention. A skating party followed by a "doggie" roast and the six one-act plays also gave added attraction.

May Day brought two of our class beauties to the foreground. Sylvia Santee and Marty Reese served on the court, while as is tradition, 12 frosh girls danced around the May Pole to honor the queen.

Our Sophomore year! Remember English literature and Dr. Schlosser, biology and Dr. Apgar and his attitude on being sophomores.

The first class activity was held in December when we went to the Ice Follies; remember the weather. Homecoming Day this year set many precedents: the tug-of-war on land, the cheering contest for the girls and the reigning of a queen. The sophs were victorious in all events with Sylvia Santee holding the last title.

The sports activities of the year were filled with sophomore participants. What would the soccer team have done without Bill Hoar, Bill Kendig, Fred Zimmerman, Bill Elston and manager Jack Devereau? Wrestling, basketball and tennis held interest for Bill Kendig, Jim Cullen and Charles Groff respectively. Along with sports we initiated the BLUE JAY and the all girls pep band of Bonnie Merkel, Bette Holman, Joyce Wenger and Marsha Graḥam as members.

The February all campus election found our class in the lime light. As campaigners the class placed Barry Stevenson, Dottie Hyde and Bill Kendig as Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer of the Senate, while Bill Hoar, Jim Knepper and Hank Osborne were elected senators. Gerda Haas and Stan Neyer served on the Committee on Women's and Men's Affairs. Our class elected Bill Hoar, Jim Knepper, Hank Osborne, Bill Adams and Joyce Wenger to act as officers. While on May Day Faye Groff and Sidney Pegram made their attractive appearances.

Nineteen girls finished their courses in May which left the first empty place on the class role. Bill Adams received an award in mathematics in late spring.

With the advent of the Junior year we headed and helped many additional activities. Among them were a bowling party, the Sadie-Hawkins dance, the Junior Variety Show and the Junior-Senior banquet.

Joyce Wenger and her tremendous job on the Junior Show deserves a round of applause. Our star, Stan Butler as "Madbeth," Shirley Raffensperger and Marsha Graham as those horrid witches and the other rather attractive witches really changed Shakespeare. We certainly had a wonderful time working with Bill Elston's "Madbeth."

The Junior-Senior banquet was next on the agenda. Marion Gilchrist and Marty Reese did a tremendous amount of work and as usual all the time was worth the big event.

There has always been at least one course which all of us had shared and this year was no exception. Remember a class in the History of the United States. Dr. Mary Adams—starched collars and galoshes.

It seems history has always been a problem. Our freshmen year it was Drs. Beck and Reuning, our Dr. Adams and then the senior plague for next year—Government with Dr. Reuning. But, alas during the summer Susquehanna University called the popular history prof to be Dean of Instruction.

Women's sports held the hours of Pat Williams, Ginger Horton, Marty Reese and Carol Beard on the hockey team and Carroll Krieder, Bette Holman, Pat, Marty and Barb Yohe on the basketball team.

The Women's quartet was composed of three juniors: Lucy Hendricks, Nancy Baugher and Shirley Raffensperger.

The spring elections brought Bill Kendig, Hank Osborne, Joyce Wenger and Bill Adams to the seats as class officers. We chose Sidney Pegram and Ruth Ziegler to represent us on the May Court. In the all-college election we placed Bill Hoar in the president's chair on the senate, with Dick Merritt as Vice-President. Fred Zimmerman served as our only senator. However, we were represented on the committees by Lucy Hendricks, Marsha Graham, Marty Reese, Bill Elston and Hank Osborne. Dottie Hyde and Jim McCormick were chosen to guide the CONESTOGAN and Bette Holman to head the ETOWNIAN.

At last! Senior year of college. A long strived for year and a hard one to get through.

The first thing to decide upon was the class memorial. Jim McCormick headed the committee which suggested we choose a clock to be placed on the library. The clock will be installed in the spring.

Those of us who are education majors were finally going to practice what had been preached to us for three years. What long hours we spent with lesson plans.

Our class has been known to enter few varsity sports. Our girl athletes, Carroll Krieder, Carol Beard, Pat Williams, Louise Horning and Ginger Horton hold the honors for the weaker sex. Varsity cheerleading helped keep Carroll and Carol in trim also. In the sporting world of men we boast Lloyd Bortzfield in baseball and an all-star line-up of six Another project of the class is to present a scholarship to a worthy student in the Junior class. Fred Zimmerman did a fine job in working out the details of the gift.

Our May Court representatives this year find Carol Beard as the queen and Joyce Wenger as the Maid-of-Honor, with Melanie Zwingler and Sylvia Santee as the senior attendants.

Looking back on the past four years we see our class as one which excelled in few activities as far as numbers are concerned, but one which entered every facet of college life and did a good job in what ever we attempted. We were an all-around class and pitched in where needed. We have indeed grown in wisdom and understanding of people and subjects.

In keeping with college tradition, we, as freshmen, presented a comical show at the all-college picnic in May. Loy Garber emceed the show which was a take-off of current television programs. Some of the outstanding presentations were a before and after reducing ad, impersonations of well-known persons, and a tumbling act. We discovered the hidden talents of many of our class members while working on our first public entertainment.

As freshmen we took a large part in campus activities while boasting thirteen on the dean's list first semester. Two of our number, Kathy Bowman and Sandie Lutz acted in the homecoming play, "Roomful of Roses." The ranks of all the sporting events, men's and women's, were swelled by our number, as were Sock and Buskin, Phi Beta Chi, SEAP, Political Science Club, French and German Clubs, and SCA.

Belva Cassel Fairview Village, Pa.

To start off the year with a bang, we reaped our revenge for our own initiation by making up the F. I. C. under the leadership of junior Barry Stevenson. This committee of ten men and ten women struck fear into the hearts of the "wishy-washy, namby-pamby" frosh. Following the initiation, the freshmen took over, winning the tug of war, much to the sophomore's chagrin. In an effort to end the rivalry attending the "unfortunate" tug of war experience, our class as sophomores sponsored a party for the freshmen at the Harrisburg Civic Club as part of our Christmas activities. A spirit of "peace on earth, good will to freshmen" reigned.

Another tradition initiated by our class was the class blazer. In conjunction with this innovation, a contest was held to choose the best original emblem. Belva Cassel walked off with the free blazer. Contrasting shade of oxford grey were selected for men and women with a design in blue, black, gold, and silver.

A main feature of our social activities for the year, and something untried before on Elizabethtown campus, was a scavenger hunt open to the entire student body. It encompassed the area from Hershey to Lancaster and took an entire

Saturday afternoon. Some of the articles sought were two eggs sewed together, six unmelted ice cubes, a cow's earring, and the signature of the old mill operator at Hershey's mill chute. Although the number of participants was not great, it turned out to be a Saturday afternoon well-spent.

To finish out the year and say farewell to the two-year students, we enjoyed an informal coke session in the New Residence Lounge. At this party each departing classmate said goodbye and told of his future plans.

Returning as juniors, with a smaller class under the leadership of Herb Spannuth, president; Joe Wagenseller, vice-president; Elizabeth Forrer, secretary; and Jesse Lowe, treasurer, we looked forward to continuing our previous policy of innovation. The first unique activity which our class sponsored this year was a "beatnik" party held in Alpha Lounge in mid-November. In an atmosphere of progressive jazz and poetry, the juniors and their guests, attired as beatniks, enjoyed an evening of carefree socializing. Dr. Hood, new history prof on campus, dressed in Scottish kilts, entertained with a few selections on his bagpipes and some "appropriate" comments.

We undertook the big responsibility of using as our junior class show the musical comedy, "Call Me Madam." The heads of committees for the show were Claude Foreman, staging; Joan Lank and Sandra Lutz, directing; Nancy Feo, program and tickets; Carol Bush, properties; Barb Schlickenmaier, costumes;

Barb Jones, publicity; Linda Elliott, make-up; Jim Thornley, lighting; Loy Garber and Elsie Woodward, managers. Mr. Charles Millard, music teacher at Elizabethtown High School, proved a source of great aid to us in this project, as did Prof. Nevin Fisher, Mrs. Clarence Enterline, and Dean Crill.

Toward the spring of the year, the class members sponsored an all-college swimming party and a bowling party for juniors and guests. These activities helped sustain the feeling of closeness that had been built up by similar social events in the past.

The last activity of the year was the traditional junior-senior banquet, sponsored by the juniors in honor of the seniors. This year the banquet was held at the Hotel Yorktowne on May 6. The committee for planning the banquet included Herb Spannuth, Joe Wagenseller, Sandra MacLaughlin, Ruth Risser, and Mara Znotens. This was the last time that the classes of 1960 and 1961 participated in a joint get-together.

We said goodbye to many of our class at graduation, some going to fulfill their engineering degrees at Penn State, and others entering onto the practical phase of their medical technology courses.

This has been a year no member of the junior class will forget, one of increasingly hard work—term papers, outside readings, reaction reports, special projects, exams, and field trips—and much activity on campus—community lyceum programs, movies, parties, sock hops, sports events, and more outside speakers for chapel.

Many honors have come the way of our class this year. Libby Forrer was chosen Homecoming Queen; Carol Heilman and Joan Lank served as layout and literary staff heads for the Conestogan; and Janice Ferster was circulation manager for the Etownian. Our class members ranked high on the soccer, hockey and men's and women's basketball teams. Many of our budding dramatists were initiated into Sock and Buskin and participated in dramatic events through the year; we as a class could boast of having officers in most of the campus clubs.

Many changes took place for us this year; women moved back into Fairview and men into West; the two new off-campus residences were opened; the construction on the men's new dormitory was evident to sight and hearing. Several new professors joined the faculty; dinner was changed to a two-session plan; chapel services were transferred from the gym to the Church of the Brethren; two new graduation services were instituted; a campus policeman supervised the traffic situation; the flu took much of our time and a great amount of extra work for the whole school; and three of our class members lost time from sickness.

E-town had an excellent soccor team this year. But not so, if they hadn't had Ronald Shubert and Paul Leicht as able backers and the ever present Ellwood Kerkeslager as half-back and the speedy Bob Lash on the forward line.

The Crystal Ball at the Hotel Brunswick in Lancaster provided an excuse for the sophs and frosh to dance away their grievances.

Returning to the field of sports we find Sam Gruber, Barry Boyer, Bob Teufel, Ted Wohnsiedler, Woodrow Frank, Ira Lauer and Jack Lantz on the basketball team, while cheerleader Georgianna Egresites, Judy Nesbit and Linda Wagner all push for victory.

Co-captain Jim Weaver and Wayne Howells of the wrestling team have done an excellent muscle job on their opponents.

As the year draws to a close we can picture ourselves working on the preparations for May Day and cheering on our men on the baseball team. Yet soon we will be half-way through with our stay at college.

Three cheers, we're ruling Sophomores now.

It was a long nine months the year before but we made it. Finally we can look at underclassmen and see ourselves doing many of the things they are doing now.

Remember that first week on campus. How peaceful it was when all we had to do was take tests, register, and have all types of get togethers. Who could forget the first time a stern head appeared at the door and said, "Girls, don't you know it's past 11:00?"

All seemed quiet until—F1C! We had suddenly become Puny Frosh. Up early in the morning, long dissertations and those uncracked eggs; all to prove we weren't too proud for E-town.

Homecoming brought glory to our class. The brawny fellows dumped the sophs in the lake and won the tug-of-war by a forfeit, while the pirate girls out cheered the upperclass women. Not to be out done, our own Carol Rees reigned as queen, with two freshmen girls. Judy Neilson and Janet Espenshade as her attendants.

In the field of sports we boasted members of the basketball, hockey, baseball and wrestling teams. Cheering the teams on were Linda Wagner, Judy Nesbit, Bonnie Scott and Judy Mac-Kensie.

Dances, exams, parties, and vacations all served to lend variety to the year. But soon spring election time was upon us. As a class we chose Dale Kilhefner, Glenn Bucher and Linda Simkins to lead the class-activities. Linda Wagner and Janet Espenshade were chosen to represent us on the May Court. Dave Yost, Dale, Linda Hollinger and Ruth Ann Geiselman were elected to serve on the Committees on Men's and Women's Affairs.

But that is all past. We have a new year to build and grow in knowledge of life and our new friends. Last year a blazer tradition was started on the campus with Linda designing our winning emblem.

We could now initiate the frosh. With the help of 11 FIC members we brought them down to a proper level and let them bow to a wiser will.

On Homecoming Day the sophomore men lost to the frosh, but the girls kept up the class honor by better cheering. Indians have victory! Linda Wagner represented the class on the court and along with Marty Eppley, Janet Myers, Carol Rees, Jo Ann Robinson, Lynn Hablett, Nancy Markey and Janet Espenshade, played on the hockey team.

Freshmen! How can we ever become accustomed to such a title after being distinguished and honored as seniors. During the first few weeks of our college career, however, we quickly forgot our former days as senior kings and queens with the help of the Freshmen Initiation Committee. All of us were only too glad when our schedules did not include dissertations, handing out rubber bands and paper clips upon request, buttoning dinks, and mass meetings. After some time we even wished to be called freshmen; it sounded so much better than frosh! When initiation was over, the only distinction of our class from the remaining student body was the dinks we were still required to wear.

Our first big weekend at college began Friday evening, October sixteenth, with a Homecoming Dance at the Hershey Golf Club which included the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. Priscilla Jay did a fine job of representing our class and was selected as runner-up to the queen. The day following the dance was an important one for us. The girls were edged by the sophomore girls in the cheering contest, but the fellows soundly defeated the sophomore boys in the annual tug-of-war. After this victory, we put away our dinks forever.

It seems Judy Haldeman can't get a word in edge wise as Don Sherick, Linda Eshleman and Joan Sees discuss the first class session.

By this time we had proven to be a class with various interests; a class active in many campus activities. We had participants in every sport activity, including cheerleading, and a representative in most of the varsity starting line-ups. Other freshmen enthusiastically entered into the intramural activities. Music, dramatic, and religious activities also provided opportunities for freshmen participation.

Before long December came and with it a Christmas Dance at the Iris Club, and a much needed vacation.

The New Year began with a dance, the Crystal Ball, at which the sophomores, as hosts and hostesses, showed us a lovely time. All too soon, however, the dancing and fun came to an end; everyone began preparing for semester exams.

the freshmen year and next year are as follows: president, Dale Good; vice-president, Leroy Bear; secretary, Molly Moerschbacker; and treasurer, Larry Smith.

As we began our second semester at Elizabethtown, everyone was looking forward to the campus activities for the rest of the year such as: special dances including the Spring Formal, athletic events, dramatic and musical productions, and May Day activities. We selected two girls as our representatives to add to the beauty of the Queen's Court.

After May Day, our first year of college was almost history. This was a year which none of us shall ever forget. The fun we shared with friends, the knowledge we acquired through books, and the growth we achieved through experiences have all helped make our first year at Elizabethtown a happy one.

Contented now that they've eaten lunch, Lois Grace, Blair Walker, Thomas Kramer, Dave Sherrer and Nancy Kase leisurely return their trays to the cafeteria as they tell about the events of the oncoming weekend.

College students frequently gather by the fireplace located on east campus. Carol Hess, Joy Martin, Sue Bucher, Ray Diener and Charles Keperling get acquainted on the cool autumn day.

Resting by Lake Placida after that long progressive hike are Willis Smith, Hubert Callihan, Kady MacGregor, Barbara Banks and Doris Weir.

Dr. Albert Gray, head of the business department, presents Stan Neyer with the charter of the newly-formed Society for the Advancement of Management. Stan is the president of the organization.

IN KEEPING with the constant search for knowledge, this year a new organization, Society for the Advancement of Management, was formed on our campus under the leadership of president Stan Neyer. The organization is dedicated to the promotion and advancement of the art and science of management. The main objectives of the club are to bring together students preparing to go into the business field after graduation and to serve as a medium for the presentation of problems, policies, and methods of industry and management. At their meetings they have guest speakers and discussions and the students are given an opportunity to plan and apply the principles of good management.

Political Science

Political Science club president Dottie Hyde, informs Bruce Tinglof, Lee Miller, Sung-Ho Halm, Ruth Koch and Ken Lease of the preparation that is necessary for the future Harrisburg conference with Professor Nelson's assistance.

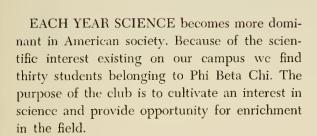

STUDENTS who are interested in taking part in the government of their country can learn all the "ins and outs" of government in the Political Science Club.

President Dottie Hyde, who was elected state clerk last year, and vice president Ken Leese, together with ICG chairman, Dick Spangler, guided the club in its political activities. This year the club attended the regional convention at Dickinson and the state meet at Harrisburg. Here a student presents his own party plank to a mock political convention of Democrats and Republicans and attempts to get this plank in the party platform by clever use of politics and parliamentary procedure.

Phi Beta Chi

Members of Phi Beta Chi wait for the fish to bite on their annual fishing trip.

This year the club has gone deep sea fishing, attended science conferences, visited research centers and planned a college science day for high school students of the area. There were sample labs set up and added demonstrations in new developments in science. It is hoped the program will be continued.

WISDOM IS EXPRESSED in our campus newspaper, the ETOWNIAN, which underwent a "face lifting" process during the 1959-60 school year. In aiming to make a more readable paper, the editor, Bette Jane Holman, chose a larger and more varied headline type. A new addition to the paper, a "campus prayer" provided devotional and spiritual inspiration for students of all faiths. Staff members sought a more complete coverage of club news. This took reporters into all areas of campus life—academic, religious, athletic, musical, and social.

The bi-monthly edition was eagerly awaited by each and every student, faculty member, administrator, alumnus, and friend of the college, for in the ETOWNIAN the news and views of the life at Elizabethtown College were sent forth.

Conestogan

PICTURES AND WORDS in the 1960 CONESTOGAN voiced sagacity in all areas of campus life. This year the CONESTOGAN staff increased the size of the college yearbook to a record one hundred ninety-two pages. More of the publication was devoted to photographs rather than to editorial copy. For the first time student photographers were made responsible for securing these pictures.

With the capable leadership of Adviser James Yeingst and Editor Dottie Hyde the various staffs put forth much effort to produce an outstanding publication. In May copies of the CONESTOGAN, which brought back countless memories of the college year, were distributed to the college faculty and student body.

Edith Fellenbaum directs the attention of Professor Hoover to a recent article on education. Prospective teachers Dick Merritt and Bill Pensyl listen for some advice.

UNDER THE ADVISERSHIP of Professor Hoover and President Dick Merritt, the SEAP has been an active organization since it received its charter in 1948. Members from the elementary and secondary education curricula met and worked together to raise the standards of preparation for and admission to the teaching profession. By joining the SEAP, they became better acquainted with the history, ethics, organization, policies, and programs of local, state, and national education associations. This year the SEAP attended the state conference at Allenberry and the district convention at Millersville.

PRESIDENT OF THE VARSITY E, Fred Zimmerman, has lead the group this year in providing additional athletic interests on the campus by promoting speakers and current discussions on sports in the world today.

The WAA president, Ruth Tice, reports that the club has carried on a full intra-mural program this year for the women. Bowling, tennis, soccer, basketball, softball, volley ball and ping pong have given the occasional athletic a chance to show her skill.

The play cast of "Arsenic and Old Lace" stop during rehearsel to discuss the mood of the play. From L to R they are: Jim Raver, Eleanor Johnson, Jim Thornley, Shirley Lantzy, Lanny Thomas, Ken Dieffenbach, Asher Halbleib, Dennis Dougherty, Don Zellner, Claude Foreman, Jim Hackman, Marsha Graham, Dick Falstick and Park Mellott.

INSTITUTING A NEW APPROACH to club meetings, the Sock and Buskin, which celebrated its 30th anniversary this year, had four special meetings: a talk on Shakespeare by William Stauffer, an initiation program and movies, a luncheon at the Enterlines', and a spring initiation meeting. The club also readopted a former activity, an alumni banquet, in the spring.

Led by president Joyce Wenger the club produced the comedy Stagedoor, Demas, a religious drama, and a Christmas play, Christus: A Mystery in the first semester.

The highlights of the second semester were the production of Arsenic and Old Lace, Cry Dawn*in Dark Babylon, and the six one-act plays in cooperation with the drama class.

AIMING TO ACHIEVE superior quality, the twenty-four members of the college orchestra met faithfully each Thursday evening in Brinser Lecture Room. Distinguishing themselves with outstanding contributions, they provided the music at several events including May Day. Conducted by Mr. Noah Klaus, the orchestra's selections ranged from symphonic to popular. The members gave an outstanding presentation at the combined orchestral-choral concert this spring.

Linda Eshleman at the piano, Jane Barsumian on the violin and Gayle Loweman on the trombone practice a special piece for the orchestra.

Religion

AN ATMOSPHERE of religious fervor appeared to be increasing on E-town's campus this year. Through the interests of our four religious organizations this aspect of college life has been emphasized. Members of these clubs realized that religion should not be limited to the compulsory Bible courses offered by the college.

One of the most important clubs on campus is the E.C.C.A. Under the direction of President Chuck Denlinger, every Wednesday at 7:15 students of all creeds met in the Chapel for an hour of panel discussions, song services, or guest speakers. Since membership is not restricted, the club emerges as one of the largest and most active. In addition to the regular weekly meetings, E.C.C.A. sponsored evening meditations from 10:00 to 10:30 through the week.

The Canterbury club was organized by Professor Tyndall to provide opportunity for the Episcopalian students on campus to meet and discuss current problems relating to their church. Thus far they have talked on the form and history of the church as well as changes in the method of service. Once each month members of the L.S.A. met in Christ Lutheran Church in E-town under the guidance of the Rev. Fetter and his wife. The first meeting of the year featured a spaghetti dinner. In December President Betty Dorr and other Lutheran students attended the district conference at Millersville. In March the North Atlantic conference was held at Buck Hill Falls.

Fred Zimmerman, President of the Eta Gamma Kappa, directed the activities of the campus preministerial students in duties pertaining to their chosen vocation. The monthly meetings served as planning sessions for field trips, guest speakers, and retreats. This year the club visited the Harrisburg State Hospital and conducted a retreat at Camp Swatara.

"Gone Generation" was the theme of the national C.B.Y.F. conference held at Bridgewater College on November 26-29. Brethren students of E-town and other colleges discussed such questions as: "The Status Quo?", "The Silent Revolution?", "Freedom?", and "Conformity?". Besides planning these meetings, the C.B.Y.F. met at Prof. Snowden's house bi-monthly for a social discussion hour.

DONALD ZELLNER, president of the German club, has started the new organization on the way to becoming a solid club. Movies of Germany and their contributions to society have been shown at various meetings and discussions on the Germans in our society have helped the students to better understand the people.

Mrs. Neumann has given the members added information about her husband's native country and she has aided in the clarification of many points about its people. The club plans to more actively consider the German language.

THE FRENCH CLUB this year has spent meetings discussing the French people and singing songs of the country. Sungho Halm, club president, has encouraged participation by showing interesting features of France in movies and still pictures. The members attempt to speak the language at all meetings and improve their diction.

Most of the meetings are held at Mrs. Herr's home with the piano often serving as the center of attraction. The club plans to expand its program in the future.

Choir

WORDS OF WISDOM expressed in music is the contribution of these vocal groups to the college and community. Nevin Fisher, director of the music department, accompanied by Betty Markley, sets the pace for the singers.

On November 21, the choir members enjoyed an evening of socializing in the form of a progressive dinner. The year was highlighted by the Choir Festival, April 2, in recognition of the 25th anniversary of the college choir. The choir also cooperated with the all-college chorus in presenting a Christmas concert in the college auditorium. Musical selections by quartets and soloists contributed to the performance.

The Men's Quartet is as follows, L to R: Wilbur Gibble, Asher Halbleib, Ed Beardslee and Dale Kilhefner.

"OUR CHIEF WISDOM consists in knowing our follies and faults, that we may correct them.

True wisdom is a thing very extraordinary. Happy are they that have it; and next to them, not the many that think they have it, but the few that are sensible of their own defects and imperfections, and know that they have it not."

THE 1959-60 EDITION of the Elizabethtown College Soccer team was the most successful of any other soccer team in the history of the school.

To reach the finals of the NAIA, the Jays had to dispose of Washington College first, in a game which also decided the Middle Atlantic Conference Champion. Playing before a home crowd, Coach Herr's men beat Washington 6-1, for the championship.

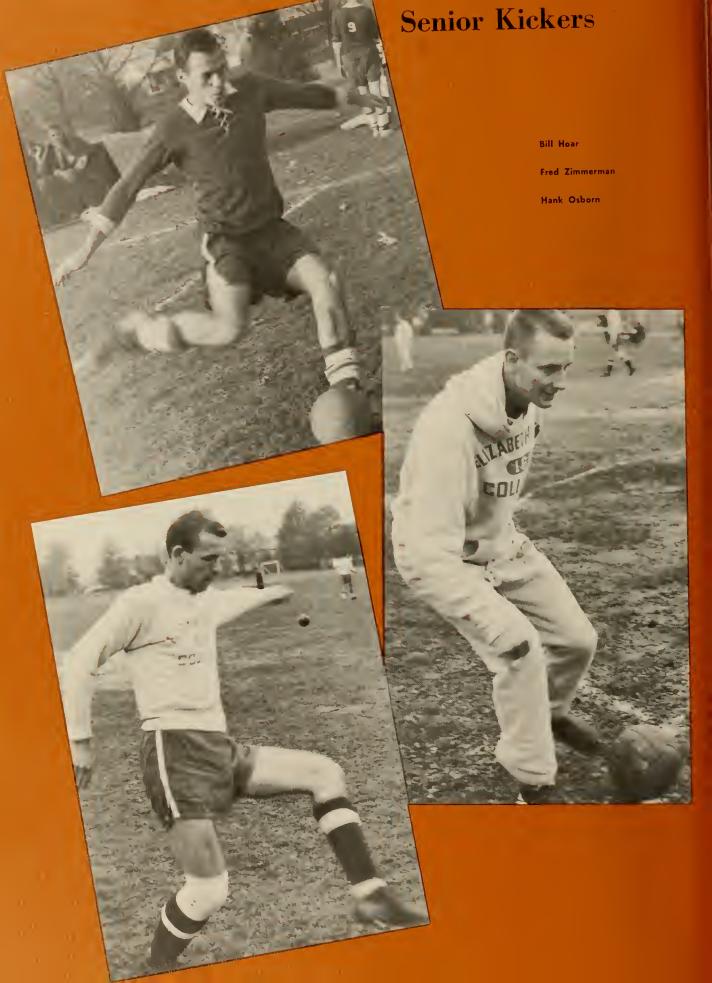

During the Thanksgiving recess, E-town traveled to Slippery Rock where they met Howard University in the first round game. On a field drenched of mud E-town advanced to the finals by swamping Howard by a 5-2 count.

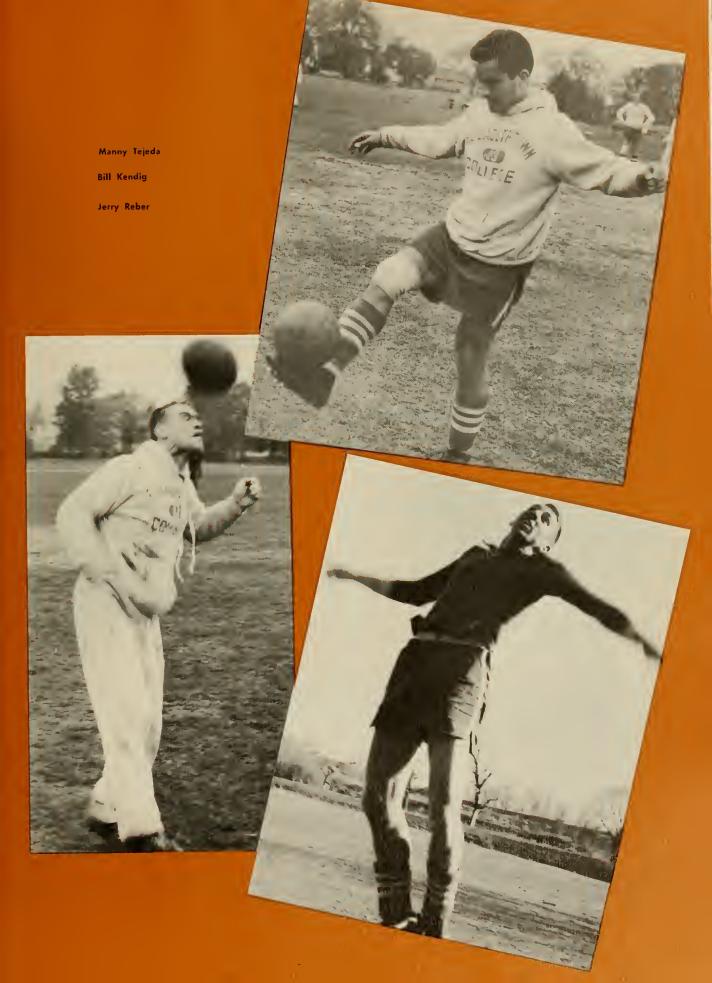

On November 28, with snow falling steadily and the field covered with snow, our Blue Jays extended Pratt Institute, a team considered by many as one of the finest in the U. S., through two overtime periods before they bowed out, 3-4.

As a team, Elizabethtown combined a brick wall defense with a steam roller offense to lead them to their highly successful season. Statistically, Elizabethtown scored 63 goals while holding the opponents to 18.

The defensive unit of Warner Cheeks and Fred Seltzer as fullbacks, Russ Glazier, Ellwood Kerkeslager, and Jerry Reber as halfbacks, and Bill Kendig filling in at any defensive position, along with goalie Ray Diener, left little to be desired in their all-around aggressive play.

Offensively, Bill Hoar led the scoring parade with 18 goals followed by Carrol Hershey's 13, and Fred Zimmerman's 9. Mannuel Tejeda, Bob Lash and Herb Spannuth also saw considerable action along with Jerry Botdorf, Ron Shubert and Ed Goodhart.

THIS YEAR, under the coaching of Miss Julia Risser and the leadership of captain Kay Jones, the "Blue Birds" brought home another winning season, scoring 25 goals and permitting only 10.

The leading guns in the girl's attack were Linda Eshelman, Kay Jones, Lucy Clemens, and Jo Ann Robinson. Miss Eshelman, a freshman, gained high honors for the team with an average of 1.4 goals per game. The defensive unit of Goalie Ruth Tice, Fullbacks Lois Herr and Janet Myers, and Halfbacks Pat Usinger and Carol Bush did a fine job of keeping the opponents from scoring, allowing an average of only 1.2 goals per game.

Hockey

AFTER ONLY FOUR YEARS of competition, E-town's harriers have come up with their second winning season in a row. This year's record of 7 wins and 3 defeats puts Coach Ira R. Herr's thinclads well above the .500 mark, where it looks like they intend to stay for another year. Led by Glenn "Stretch" Bruckhart and freshman Ted Bond, the Blue Jays had a solid one-two punch with Wilbur Gibble, Helmut Baer, and Don Hosler providing good balance. Next year, although they may lose Bruckhart, the crosscountry team will again have talent plus experience to yield another winning season.

ENDING THEIR SEASON with a victory over Lock Haven, the Blue Jayettes closed this years' record with six wins and five defeats. Although tension was high throughout the season, the girls did not let this defeat them. With the leadership of co-captains Ruth Tice and Kay Jones, they displayed skill, sportsmanship and co-ordination at all times.

Under the capable coaching of Julia Risser and assistant coach Jean Anne Rogers, the team scored a total of 438 points against their opponents 489 points.

Top scorers for the Blue Jayettes were Cindy Kratzer, who scored 127 points and Carroll Krieder with 93 points.

THE JAYS DROPPED their second losing season in the six-year career of coach Don Smith. This year's squad, marked by injuries and academic probation difficulties, totaled a season log of eight wins and fourteen losses.

The team was sparked by the high scoring of captains Bob Geiger and Stretch Bruckhart. Geiger was high man with a season total of 391 points for 22 games, an average of 17.7 points per game. Bruckhart was next in total points with 275. Sophomore Barry Boyer and Junior Ed Harnly came next with 239 and 201 respectively. Bill Bechtold, a freshman playing only the first half of the season, notched 180.

On the foul line Geiger once again led in total points with 63. Bruckhart and Hefferan hit a close second and third with 53 and 52.

Bruckhart led the line percentage-wise in field goal accuracy with .478. Bechtold made .440 of his shots from the floor; Geiger averaged .420. Top man from the foul line was Hefferan, who canned .812 of his free throws. Boyer had .763, Sam Gruber .750.

As a team the Jays scored a total of 1,586 points and allowed 1,729.

Of this year's Varsity team, Captains Bob Geiger and Stretch Bruekhart played their last games for E-Town. Geiger will transfer next year to Penn State to complete his engineering curriculum. Bruckhart will go to Franklin and Marshall to finish a B. S. in physics.

WITH BRIGHT HOPES for their best season in years, the Elizabethtown College 1959 tennis team started practice as soon as weather permitted.

The Blue Jays were led by Charles Groff, who won his first ten matches and dropped only two. Groff teamed up with Gene Gordon to capture nine doubles victories. Captain Kent Replogle and Jerry Garland played fine tennis for coach Don Smith, but the team lacked enough depth to put together a large amount of victories.

E-TOWN'S BASEBALL SQUAD climaxed another highly successful season by winning the District 30 (Penna.) championship for the second time in the last three years. The team ended the season with a commendable 14-4 record.

Shelly Dent throws the runner out at first.

Lloyd Bortzfield taps the bag at first to ruin a potential rally.

Coach Ira Herr had great possibilities for a repeat performance with eight of his lettermen returning for more action. The two biggest losses in the pitching department were Glenn Crum and Sheldon Dent. A big loss in the field is centerfielder Gene Wise.

Last year's club finished with a 7.3 runs per game average as opposed to the opponent's 4.3. The team leaders in hitting were Warner Cheeks, Carroll Hershey and Gene Wise. Shortstop Gene Kerns is now assigned with the Phillies and Sheldon Dent with the Cubs.

Knowledge is proud that he has learned so much; Wisdom is humble that he knows no more.

Wisdom there (woods) and truth,

Not shy as in the world and to be won

By slow solicitation seize at once

The roving thought, and fix it in themselves."—William Cowper

Senior Phyllis Moser, 1959 May Day queen, poses for her admirers.

May Day

May queen, Phyllis Moser and Maid-of-Honor, Liga Grinbergs pause for refreshments at the queen's tea.

These freshmen girls, dressed in pastel shades, dance around the Maypole for the queen.

CARRYING OUT the 60th anniversary theme, May Day, 1959, featured a program called "Diamonds Through the Year." Wearing mint green gowns the eight court members proceeded through an ivy chain to the dogwood dell, followed by maid of honor Liga Grinbergs and queen Phyllis Moser. Phyllis was crowned by last year's queen, Elizabeth Lefever Pannebaker, who was escorted by the president of the class of 1958, Jim Pannebaker. Presidents of the four classes brought gifts to the queen.

For the pleasure of the queen, the entertainment was divided in four seasons. In the first, the autumn, Jack Frost turned the leaves from green to fall colors. Then for winter, Susie Snowflake and her group of little snowflakes turned the ground a glittering white. The Spring Beauty, symbol of the new life of spring, was awakened from her sleep by the raindrops. Then the sunbeam shining on the raindrops created a rainbow around the maypole. After the ceremony, the queen's tea was held in the New Residence Hall for members of the court and their families.

Raindrops Marty Reese, Dotty Zlobik, Marjorie Price, Nancy Kurtz and Barb Yohe pour their moisture on the flower of spring, Kay Tauscher during May Day.

Mara Znotens, representing Suzy snowflake, lends her dainty snow drops, Ginger Horton, Nancy Feo, Judy Hornberger, Pat Jackson, Marion Barner and Sandy Swanger into the center of the dell as they deplict the winter season.

Elizabethtown defeated Franklin and Marshall in a baseball game in the afternoon. Slides of "The College in Color" shown in Brinser Lecture Hall, a children's story hour in the library, and a Punch Hour under the Elms were also given during the day. In the evening, the choir, under the direction of Prof. Nevin W. Fisher, and the orchestra, directed by Mr. Noah Klauss, presented a Music Festival in the auditorium-gymnasium.

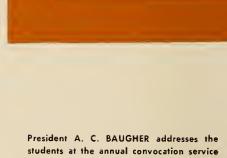

President BAUGHER and GAYLORD P. HARNWELL discuss the procedure for the convocation service.

"EDUCATION begins with the asking of questions" was the emphasized thought of Dr. Gaylord P. Harnwell, President of the University of Pennsylvania, in his address given during the 61st Charter Day Convocation Program. He compared students and educators to pilgrims "who are always venturing into the new and unknown."

Dr. Harnwell and Dr. Stanton Belfour, secretary of the Pitcairn-Crabbe Foundation, Pittsburgh, were granted honorary degrees. Both degress were conferred by Dr. A. C. Baugher, president of the college. Dr. Harnwell, who received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science of Pedagogy, was cited as "one of the outstanding nuclear physicists of our country." His citation was read by Dean Roy McAuley. Dr. Donald R. Vosburgh of the Sociology Department, adjusted the academic hood. Dr. Belfour was granted the honorary Doctor of Commercial Science degree. He was recognized for his work as a teacher and administrative officer at the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. N. Franklin Stump, of the Psychology Department, read the citation. Dr. Charles Rahter, of the English Department, adjusted the academic hood.

Graduation

Ernest Campbell, speaker for the January commencement exercises, addresses the graduates on the life after college.

THE HONORABLE EZRA TAFT BENSON, a member of President Eisenhower's cabinet, addressed the graduating class of 1960. More than a hundred students were granted degrees.

Guest speaker Benson was presented with an honorary degree, Dr. of Laws, LL.D. Other recipients of honorary degrees were Mrs. Shiley Watkins Stienman and Mr. John L. Tivney.

The Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by President A. C. Baugher.

BLESSED BY PERFECT WEATHER, over nine hundred parents and alumni descended upon the college campus to take part in the 55th Annual Homecoming Day Program.

The Homecoming activities began Friday evening, Oetober 16th, with dancing to the music of the Swinging Shepherds at the Hershey Golf Club.

The sophomore men had a pleasant day for their dip in Lake Placida as the freshmen stalwarts won the annual tug-of-war. However, the sophomore women, dressed as Indians, salvaged some class prestige by winning the cheering contest against the freshmen coeds. The freshmen garbed themselves as "hicks from the sticks."

In the day's intercollegiate athletic events Elizabethtown's soceer and cross country teams were victorious over Gettysburg and Albright respectively, but the women's hockey team had to settle for a tie with Lebanon Valley.

An audience of six hundred crowded the auditorium in the evening for the Sock and Buskin's production of the three-act eomedy, "Stage Door."

Frosh Orientation

Mrs. Christopher Papson, treasurer of the auxilliary, serves as toastmistress at the annual luncheon meeting held in the New Women's Residence.

Women's Auxiliary

FURNISHING THE MANY small necessities for gracious living is the aim of this organization. The membership consists of women who are interested in making college more pleasant for women students.

Every Homecoming Day this group presents a bazaar in the Women's Residence Hall. A variety of displays exhibit useful articles that may be purchased by students or visitors. The money collected during this bazaar provided financial support for contributions to the college.

The members of this active organization can be seen serving tea under the elms on May Day. The auxiliary assists the college in its purpose of "educating for service."

The bazaar sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary in the New Women's Residence attracted many Homecoming guests.

Dramatic

The happy court of King Madbeth anxiously await the arrival of the jesters.

Joyce Wenger lends a steady hand to aid Bill Bair and Deve Yost in their effort to keep court jesters Judy MecKenzie, Sandie Lutz and Ginger Horton in balance.

Productions

Longfellow's "The Nativity" was presented under the direction of Mrs. Enterline in the Church of the Brethren at Christmas.

Park Mellott sips the drink of death as Carol Bush, and Shirley Lantz knowingly urge him on in "Arsenic and Old Lace."

The Homecoming Day program was climaxed by an evening performance of the dramatic club. This scene was taken during the presentation of "Stage Door."

Students with checkbooks and schedule cards process through the receiving line on registration day.

tudents dig in during the special Christmas dinner in the college dining hall.

A summer fire scare over in the barracks.

Coach Herr, Mr. Kurtz, Dean MacAuley and Dr. Baugher check over plan for E-town's campus of the future.

Students relax at a final-exam coffee break to bolster themselves for the next hour's exams.

Carols fill the air near Dr. Baugher's house as the Christmas season draws nigh.

Men students Asher Halbleib, Dick Lytle, Tony Oskam and Dan Hodgins welcomed the long-awaited renovations in Memorial Hall's lounge.

Halloween time brought this surprise scene in front of the New Girls Dorm.
